Japan Reported to Approve Proposed Four-Power Treaty

Provides For Mutual Pledge Not to Go to War Over Disputes in Pacific Without "Cooking-Off" Period of Discussion

"Anglo-Jap" Substitute

Honolulu, Dec. 7.—The Japanese diplomatic council formally approved the proposed four-power treaty for settlement of Pacific disputes this evening at a meeting at Premier Takahashi's official residence, according to a Tokio cablegram to the Nippu Jiji, a Japanese language newspaper here.

(By The Associated Press).

Washington, Dec. 7.—A mutual pledge not to go to war over disputes in the Pacific without a "cooking off" period of discussion is the basis of the new four-power treaty proposed as a substitute for the Anglo-Japanese alliance.

Discussions of the proposal among the arms delegates have reached a well-advanced stage, although none of the governments concerned—the United States, Great Britain and France—has given its final approval. A suggestion that the Anglo-Japanese pact may be revoked has gone to London and Tokio. Possible controversies over the Pacific islands alone, exclusive of the new Hawaiian group and Tap, have come under the provisions of the new agreement. Tap is to be the subject of a separate treaty, negotiations for which are nearing completion, and Hawaii is to be considered for purposes of the agreement as part of the American mainland.

Will Not Include China.

The problems of China or other portions of the Asiatic mainland are not to be touched by the proposed treaty, nor will it contain provisions relating to Pacific fortifications or the naval reduction program.

It is possible, however, that all of these questions may come simultaneously to the point of a decision. By the American delegates the project is regarded as establishing neither an alliance nor an entente, but merely as applying to the Pacific islands the principles of the 30-odd Bryan peace treaties to which the United States already is a party.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Decided optimism with respect to the result of the armament conference was expressed by President Harding today in two brief addresses, one to a delegation of farmers and the other at the annual meeting of the American Red Cross.

Speaking to a delegation from the national board of farm organizations, the national farmers' union and affiliated organizations, which called at the White House, the President said:

"This conference will demonstrate the wisdom of internationally coming together—nations facing each other and settling problems without resort to arms."

Several hours later, Mr. Harding, in convening the annual meeting of the Red Cross and referring to the conference, said:

"I hope with all my heart that much of the big work which has been done in the past will never be asked of you again. It will be a wonderful thing for me and for you to have lived in a period when we have brought the conscience of mankind into an understanding where we shall have done something tangible to prevent calling upon you again for war service."

"And I like to say it to you, because I know whereof I speak. We are going to succeed beyond our fondest hopes."

"And quite apart from our contribution to this new consciousness in the world, quite apart from the immediate benefits and satisfaction which come to us, what a wonderful thing it is to have lived in thought and acted in such a way as to bring the deliberate intelligent public opinion in the world to this conclusion. I am so proud of America. I don't mean in the sense that we have been boasting boastfully. I don't mean in any materialistic way, but I am proud of America because I have been witness to the radiation of American sentiment and American public sentiment to the farthest parts of the world."

"There will never be a time when there is not work to do. But now much more comforting it is going to be to have the consciousness that you are contributing to the elevation of these inescapable sufferings of peace rather than to be called upon in the greater way as an agency to relieve the sufferings deliberately caused by war."

Predict Blanket Action.

Thus it would not surprise those here if the whole range of controversies under consideration were gathered in the end under one banner, understanding to be translated then into several formal instruments of agreement.

Both Japanese and Chinese reflected optimism over the Shantung negotiations tonight after another meeting in which Japan offered to give up the public property in the leased territory of Kiao-Chow as another step toward meeting the Chinese position. In the committee of the whole of the nine nations, a resolution was adopted during the day pledging respect for China's neutrality in foreign wars and another restricting the use of foreign radio facilities on Chinese soil.

There is a general feeling that all of these subjects—the Chinese question, Shantung, the naval ratio and the new "cooking off" treaty—may all move along concurrently so that none of them reaches definite settlement until all are ready to be lumped into a final program of accomplishment.

Further Rights For China.

The far eastern committee of the conference, resuming its sessions today after a three days' recess, adopted a resolution providing for the neutrality of China in case of a war in which China is not a party.

This resolution it was said, covered point number eight of China's "bill of rights." The committee also adopted the root resolution, drafted in sub-committee, concerning the wireless installations of foreigners on Chinese soil.

The question of Japanese troops in Manchuria came up for discussion and it was understood Japanese members made a statement to the committee on the subject.

Resolutions insuring the territorial integrity of China and providing for removal of wireless stations in China were adopted unanimously by the nine powers committee on Pacific and far eastern questions.

The committee in executive session also discussed further China's request for removal of foreign troops and for abandonment of leased territory in China but deferred action on these questions until tomorrow.

The resolution with respect to territorial integrity adopted today provides that the powers shall observe in the future the territorial integrity of China and also declare that foreign wireless stations in China shall be used only for official messages and not for commercial purposes.

HARDING OPTIMISTIC OVER DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE

Washington, Dec. 7.—Decided optimism with respect to the result of the armament conference was expressed by President Harding today in two brief addresses, one to a delegation of farmers and the other at the annual meeting of the American Red Cross.

Speaking to a delegation from the national board of farm organizations, the national farmers' union and affiliated organizations, which called at the White House, the President said:

"This conference will demonstrate the wisdom of internationally coming together—nations facing each other and settling problems without resort to arms."

"I hope with all my heart that much of the big work which has been done in the past will never be asked of you again. It will be a wonderful thing for me and for you to have lived in a period when we have brought the conscience of mankind into an understanding where we shall have done something tangible to prevent calling upon you again for war service."

"And I like to say it to you, because I know whereof I speak. We are going to succeed beyond our fondest hopes."

"And quite apart from our contribution to this new consciousness in the world, quite apart from the immediate benefits and satisfaction which come to us, what a wonderful thing it is to have lived in thought and acted in such a way as to bring the deliberate intelligent public opinion in the world to this conclusion. I am so proud of America. I don't mean in the sense that we have been boasting boastfully. I don't mean in any materialistic way, but I am proud of America because I have been witness to the radiation of American sentiment and American public sentiment to the farthest parts of the world."

But now much more comforting it is going to be to have the consciousness that you are contributing to the elevation of these inescapable sufferings of peace rather than to be called upon in the greater way as an agency to relieve the sufferings deliberately caused by war."

HAVE, OR HAVE NOT, MORE CHINESE DELEGATES QUIT?

Washington, Dec. 7.—One of today's unanswered questions of the armament conference was whether more numbers of the Chinese delegation have resigned. It was stated emphatically that they had and that they had not.

Dr. Wei, confidential secretary to Wellington Koo, one of the delegates, declared that Admiral Tsai Ting Kan and Chou Tzu-Chi, two of the principal advisers to the delegation, have not resigned.

"Dr. Tsai was the only high official to resign and as far as we know he had not presented violation of the law. He testified that he had seen in the audience a number of children between 10 and 12 years of age.

A police woman and two patrolmen testified to observing "females of tender years," whom birth control propagandists had pronounced bobbed-hair college girls.

Chief Inspector Lahey, who conducted the inquiry, reserved decision.

CARPENTER IS COMING.

New York, Dec. 7.—George Carpenter, world light heavyweight champion, is expected to arrive in America early in February to begin training for his bout with Tommy Gibbons of St. Paul, scheduled for next March. Promoter Tex Rickard was informed today. The French boxer, who was defeated last summer by Jack Dempsey, was reported as planning to cross the ocean immediately after his bout with George Cook, Australian heavyweight, in London, Jan. 12. He is to meet Gibbons in New York.

Does Mamma Approve? It Seems So

TARIFF SUGGESTION IS WELL RECEIVED

But Formal Decision of Senate Finance Committee Probably Will Be Deferred

Washington, Dec. 7.—President Harding's suggestions for flexible tariffs and a provision for proclaiming American valuation apparently have been well received by many of the Republican members of congress charged with the drafting of tariff legislation, but a formal decision on them by the senate finance committee is likely to be deferred until the actual re-writing of the house tariff measure is started, probably next month.

Chairman Penrose of the senate committee, plans to confer soon with the leading Republicans of the ways and means committee regarding the subject.

Chairman Fordney of the house ways and means committee said he had not had time to study the President's suggestions and would withhold comment.

Senator Penrose expressed the opinion that careful thought would have to be given to the manner of delegating authority to the President to change the rates or proclaim American valuation as the basis for assessing duties as changing conditions might warrant.

Hearings on the house measure were resumed today by the senate committee, under a schedule which will keep it in session almost every day from now until the Christmas holidays. The to-and-fro schedule occupied the committee today, and tomorrow it will take up cotton manufacturing.

LIBERALS WIN BIG VICTORY IN CANADA

Speculate on Make-Up of Next Ministry; Conservatives Take Third Place

Ottawa, Dec. 7.—Having captured control of the Canadian parliament in yesterday's general election, when the Conservative cabinet and anti-reciprocity went down to defeat, Liberals tonight were speculating on the make-up of the next ministry.

It is probable that some little time will elapse before Premier Meighen, out-battled in his home district in Manitoba, places his resignation in the hands of Governor-General Byng, and W. L. McKenzie, Liberal leader, is asked to make his selections.

Belated returns only added to the defeat of conservatives who instead of holding the ranking position in parliament, now take third place, with the Progressives firmly established as official opposition.

Lated figures given the party standing: Liberals, 120; Progressives, 62; Conservatives, 56; Labor and Independent, 2. The Yukon seat is still to be heard from.

PROPAGANDISTS "SCOOPED"

Birth Control Advocates Claim They Were Not Informed of Final Session of Police Inquiry.

New York, Dec. 7.—Birth control propagandists charged tonight that they had been "scooped" on the final session of the police department inquiry which they had demanded in connection with the raid on their meeting November 18.

Their counsel said that he received no notice that the hearing was to be continued today. Consequently he was not present.

Police Captain Donohoe testified that he stopped the meeting because he would have been open to charges if he had not presented violation of the law. He testified that he had seen in the audience a number of children between 10 and 12 years of age.

A police woman and two patrolmen testified to observing "females of tender years," whom birth control propagandists had pronounced bobbed-hair college girls.

Chief Inspector Lahey, who conducted the inquiry, reserved decision.

PLEDGE HARDING SUPPORT

Washington, Dec. 7.—Members of the Republican committee of one hundred, headed by their chairman, Mrs. Mary Hatch Willard, presented to President Harding today an engrossed copy of resolutions recently passed by the organization pledging support to the President "in every effort which he shall make to bring about a firm and lasting peace and to raise the burden of excessive armaments from the peoples of the world."

WILLIAM S. HART, NOTED MOVIE ACTOR, IS MARRIED

Los Angeles, Dec. 7.—William S. Hart, motion picture actor, was married tonight to Winfred Westover, who has been included in his supporting company for some time. The service was read at an Episcopal church in Hollywood.

HARRISON ASSAILS G. O. P. LEADERSHIP

Accuses Harding of Doing Very Things for Which He Had Denounced Wilson

Washington, Dec. 7.—The Republican party's leadership from President Harding down was assailed in a speech in the senate today by Senator Harrison, Democrat of Mississippi, who declared Mr. Harding was doing the very things for which he as senator had denounced President Wilson.

The President's message to congress yesterday, he added, constituted an appeal to partisanship and a warning to Republicans to disavow their allegiance to "blue" organization.

Mr. Harrison attacked the senate Republican leaders, saying they had "shifted and hopped until none of us know when or where or why." Senator Malton also was denounced as working in his annual report of the treasury department to "help along" the ideas of President Harding with respect to "relieving the rich" of heavy taxation.

When Mr. Wilson opposed or urged legislation, Mr. Harrison continued, the then Senator Harding described him as a "dictator and autocrat" and when Mr. Wilson issued his appeal in 1919 for the election of a Democratic congress, Mr. Harding was equally bitter in his denunciation.

"Yet, we have the spectacle," he said, "of the President coming here and making a speech against the soldier bonus, a thing unprecedented. Then yesterday he came here and appealed to the agricultural group to line up, to get behind the party banner."

DISINHERITS HIS NEPHEWS

Ernest W. Longfellow, Poet's Son, Denounces Their "Socialist and Pacifist Opinions."

New York, Dec. 7.—The will of Ernest W. Longfellow of this city, son of America's famous poet, bears a codicil disinheriting his nephews, Harry J. Dana of Cambridge, Mass., and Alston Dana of Philadelphia, "owing to their socialist and pacifist opinions," a large part of the estate, valued at "more than $50,000," goes to the Boston Museum of Fine Arts.

As the third day of the strike came to a close, quiet prevailed at most packing house centers, but in Chicago the first serious disorders in connection with the strike occurred tonight when several persons were shot and slugged in clashes between strike sympathizers, stockyard workers and police patrolling the the stockyards.

Seven men are known to have been shot and a score of men and women injured in the clashes. The trouble started when strike sympathizers accosted the workmen as they left the packing plants. Missiles were thrown and policemen used their clubs and guns in an effort to disperse the crowds. Police reserves were called out before the trouble ended.

All of those shot will recover, it was thought by doctors tonight. Four policemen were among the injured. The woman who was hurt was struck by a brick.

LITTLE CHANGE IN SITUATION.

Officials of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen of North America, which called the strike after a wage decrease averaging ten per cent, had been put into effect, tonight agreed with spokesmen for the "Big Five" packers that there was little change in the situation. Union officials asserted that workers in allied crafts in the packing plants had walked out, while the packers said that new workers were being employed, that suckers were asking to be reinstated, and that plants here were operating from 85 to 100 per cent normal.

It was admitted by the packers that their plants in other cities were harder hit, and a number of independent plants here were either virtually at standstill or handicapped by the walk-out.

The independent plants and Swift & Company today requested an injunction restraining picketing of the packing plants was granted today. The packers, including Miss Stevens, came about when it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Malone, of Cold Spring-on-the-Hudson, the codicil bears the date of May 26, 1916. The estate far exceeds the technical valuation of "more than $50,000."

The original document provided that, after specific bequests to the Boston museum, the residue should be placed in trust for the widow. Upon her death $200,000 goes to the museum for the purchase of additional pictures and the rest of the trust sum divided between another nephew, Richard H. Dunn, of this city, and a niece, Frances Rham, of Cold Spring-on-the-Hudson. The codicil bars payment of quarter shares to Harry L. and Alston Dana as originally ordered.

DUDLEY FIELD MALONE TO MARRY SUFFRAGE LEADER

New York, Dec. 7.—Dudley Field Malone, assistant secretary of state during President Wilson's first term and former collector of the port of New York, and Miss Doris Stevens, the suffrage leader, will be married Saturday and sail immediately thereafter for France. It was learned today from members of the bride's family.

The discovery of the romance, which had its inception in Washington when Mr. Malone offered his legal services to incarcerated White House pickets, including Miss Stevens, came about when it was announced that Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Malone had engaged passage on the steamer Rotherham. They will make their home in Paris.

Mr. Malone's former wife, a daughter of former United States Senator James O'Gorman, obtained a divorce in France last summer. Mr. Malone was candidate for governor of New York on the Farmer-Labor ticket in the 1920 elections.

GIANTS BUY O'CONNELL FOR $75,000, NEW HIGH FIGURE

Buffalo, Dec. 7.—Charles O'Connell of the San Francisco club in the Pacific Coast league has been bought by Manager J. J. McGraw of the New York Giants. It was announced here today. The price paid for the outfielder was $75,000, said to be the highest figure ever given for a player taken from minor league company.

O'Connell will play with the San Francisco team next season, joining the Giants in 1923.

PRICES EXPERIENCE A SHARP REVERSAL

Bullish Sentiment Gives Way to Pressure Against Rails, Equipment, Oils and Motors

New York, Dec. 7.—Bullish sentiment was uppermost during the first half of today's very active stock exchange session, but prices experienced a sharp reversal later when pressure against rails, equipment, oils and motors was accompanied by a sudden rise of call money rates to 5½ per cent.

Advice from Washington, which included the encouraging survey of general business and industrial conditions by the department of commerce, contributed largely to the early advance, which embraced an unusual assortment of industrial shares.

There were a few prominent exceptions to the higher trend, notably St. Paul common and preferred, which were heavy under reports affecting the company's ability to meet impending extensive maturities.

Pressure against mail order, shipping, high-grade tobacco, secondary steel and sugar stocks proceeded mainly from professional sources.

These issues were regarded as more or less vulnerable because of backward conditions in their respective lines. The sales amounted to approximately 200,000 shares.

Most of the day's demand loans were placed at 4½ per cent on liberal offerings in which the local reserves of the interior banks were quite freely drawn upon.

Liberty issues and most other active bonds gave way to further profit taking, but a few of the recently-organized rails were strong. Internationals were mixed, closing at the general moderate gains and losses.

Shocks From Pans.

"When plants die, they give off a large amount of electricity. If 500 pens boiling in a pot all died at the same moment they would give a current sufficient to electrocute the cook," said Sir J. C. Rose, in a lecture on growth of plants, to the students of University college, London, recently. You can deceive a plant with chloroform, he said. Usually it sleeps in winter and blossoms in the spring, but if given a dose of chloroform in winter it blossoms on awakening from the chloroform sleep.

Some Yarn, Eh?

"Several years ago," said Binks, "I raised some watermelons which grew to an enormous size. One day a three-masted schooner went aground on the mud flats just below my house. I immediately rolled one of these huge melons to the side of the stranded craft, cut the melon in two and enough juice came out of it to float the schooner safely into deep water."—New York Globe.

Beautiful Tropical Plants.

Most plants in the tropics have two fruiting seasons and millions of seedlings start, but few ever get sufficient foothold to develop beyond the first stages of plant growth. But the one that does can almost be seen to grow. Their upper leaves are all on a level and grow with the most beautiful tint. The branches of the different trees are so interlaced that it is impossible to distinguish which flower and leaf belongs to which tree.

ONEONTA GAGERS LOSE.

I Company G defeated by Company I at Walton, 28 to 26. In a closely contested game of basket ball, the Company I quintet defeated Company G at Walton Tuesday evening by 28 to 26 score. Laidlaw's lucky shot over his head gave the Walton soldiers a one point lead at the end of the first half. At one time in the second half Company G had an 8 point lead which was reduced to three before the whistle blew by clever work on the part of the Oneonta players. Hoshay and Delaney starred for Company G while Liedel led in the scoring for Walton. The score:

RIS ONE BIT OF COUNSEL.

In his tour around and across the United States, now drawing to a close, for the great general must be in New York to sail for France on Wednesday of next week, Marshal Foch has steadfastly maintained his reputation as one who listens much, comprehends clearly, but gives little no advice. This has been notable by way of contrast with many another visitor who has been willing to dispense advice on any and every subject broached by a reporter keen for copy. However, there is one piece of advice and the only one which 60 days of unfortunate questioning has been able to elicit. It has to do with his theory of success, and comes fittingly from one who has always refused to admit that he was beaten. Says the Marshal:

"A man who believes whenever he enters any contest—and every single act of our lives is a contest of major or minor importance—that he is doomed to defeat is never disappointed. Defeat is predestined when the mind has become adjusted to either its possibility or probability. Success, on the other hand, is that which follows inevitably from two causes: thorough preparation, which includes a slitting of the circumstances so that only those which will make for success remain, and calm confidence. With these two triumph is inevitable."

"Our body is a variable vessel: it may fail us at the crucial time. The spirit is invincible. It is cast in the mood we wish to mold it. It has a strength far beyond bodily power; it can triumph over illness, fatigue and depression if there are substantial stimuli applied to keep its flame unquenched. Determination of spirit is the real weapon that wins in any conflict."

"How often have I seen the proof of this. This was the sustaining power that kept France alive in the early days of the war; this was the moral strength of the allies when we withstood rebuff after rebuff. Many times we were technically beaten, but never vanquished because the spirit survived."

"When the boys of the American army came to France I saw this ardor of spirit, and I knew then that the end was in sight. I saw your men laugh at hardships, remain cheerful in severe circumstances and hold their outlook ever on the belief in victory. No force ever created could defeat spirit such as this. It defied the years of training that stood against your men—and my comrades."

"What better demonstration could be offered than this triumph of the spirit over matter. With a true mental goal and with determination to follow that goal the rewards behind the goal are attainable for every man. It is the spirit that counts—always. In passing through your country I have been impressed by this steadily maintained conviction. When I visited the convention of my comrades of the American Legion in Kansas City I found that it had survived the wreckage of war. It is this spirit which has made your country great, and which will make it even still greater."

CHURCH CHANGES NAME.

West End Non-River Street Baptist—Officers Elected.

The annual corporate and church meeting of the West End Baptist church was held in the social rooms of the church on Tuesday night of this week and was attended by about 60 persons. Supper was served at 6:30 o'clock. This was followed by a roll call of the membership, to which those present responded and letters were read from some who were absent.

At the corporate meeting C. N. Bingham and H. E. Gassler were re-elected trustees for three years to succeed themselves.

It was unanimously voted to change the name of the church from West End Baptist church to River Street Baptist church.

At the church meeting H. E. Miller was elected a deacon of the church, other officers elected to serve for the coming year are:

Church clerk—H. E. Miller.

Sunday school superintendent—Mrs. N. S. Burd.

Assistant superintendent—Levern Pierce.

Treasurer of benevolence—Mrs. N. S. Burd.

Choirister—H. E. Miller.

Music committee—H. E. Gassler.

G. A. Carr, Mrs. J. Lauer.

Missionary committee—Mrs. Louis Lange, Mrs. A. G. Dickson, Mrs. H. E. Miller.

The trustees' budget of about $2,500 for the coming year was unanimously accepted by the church. Reports from the auxiliary societies of the church were interesting and showed a healthy working condition of each organization.

Youth's Companion Calendar for 1922.

The publishers of the Youth's Companion are sending to every subscriber (those subscription $2.50) a panel for 1922 as a calendar for the new year. The panels are printed in red and dark blue, and besides giving the days of the current month in bold type, give the calendar of the preceding and succeeding months in smaller type in the margin. The Companion Home calendar has been published in standard form for many years and is everywhere in quest because of its convenience and novelty.

VARIOUS PRESS OPINIONS

Not Enough Clothes for Women.
School physician in New York city warns that the flimsy dress worn by young women does not afford them sufficient protection from the cold and they will suffer from colds, which may develop into pneumonia or tuberculosis. While we are on the subject we would like to ask, if we may be permitted, why some little school girls, whose dresses come barely below their knees, are not provided with stockings that will keep their feet and legs warm? Surely children should not be made to suffer for the vagaries of fashion. Surely they are entitled to dress which will keep them comfortable.—(New York News.)

The Retired Farmer.

The suicides of two old cronies in Sheteville, one of them 72 years old, the other 70, and both of them retired farmers from the fruitful "Pope's Corner" region, bears out the familiar contention that a farmer who retires finds life in town dreary.

Straight looking, when you are not used to it, isn't all that some persons, hard worked, fancy it might be. Those who can retire if they wish to do so are fortunate. But when retiring think twice and retire in a practical way.—[Louisville Courier Journal.]

How Much Longer?

It was a grade crossing. A Lackawanna train struck an automobile Sunday afternoon and four persons were killed. It is the same old constantly repeated tragedy.

And the tragedies will continue as long as there are grade crossings on much traveled highways.

True it is going to cost money to eliminate many of the grade crossings and there will be still proposition at Albany.

But until the money is spent and the worst of the grade crossings are eliminated, there are going to be fatalities like that of Sunday at Curtis.

How many more must there be before action is taken to abolish the danger spots?—[Elmira Star-Gazette] Economic Interests.

Since, as Mr. Kahn says, the prominent public tasks at the moment are economic, it is inevitable that section of nation draw together by common economic interests, above all political power. It is an insultable that those who want government in the interest of all classes should oppose them. But in refusing to allow one class to gain political authority at the expense of another it must not be forgotten that there is an obligation attached. The government must heed and seek to remove the just grievances of each class. If we are to avoid class rule we must see fair play for every class.—[New York Sun.]

Bad Habit to be Cured.

It is gratifying to know that the habit of creating deficiencies is to be cured. President Harding has ordered all executive officers to keep within their spending allowances. Last December the Wilson administration demanded $555,000,000 to meet deficiencies. Congress voted $275,000,000 in order to take care of neglected disabled veterans this congress will have to appropriate about $100,000,000 for deficiencies. But it will try to stop there. When the new budget system goes into effect next week there will no longer be an excuse for over-expenditures or the submission of post mortem estimates.

Russian Finances.

A new way of paying old debts has been devised by the Moscow Soviet. New paper rubles will be printed which will be like the old ones, but will not contain so many cipher. One ruble in the new notes will equal 10,000 rubles in the old notes. Russians have been trying to buy a little real money, and the result has been an appreciation of the actual thing and a depreciation of the Soviet shadow thereof. Probably the most cow printing office has run out of ciphers. This method of contracting the currency ought to be interesting to Berlin and Vienna, which are only a little behind Moscow in soaring among high numerals. —[Philadelphia Record.]

Opinion Sustained.

The appellate division of the superior court has handed down a decision sustaining the order of Justice Kellogg restraining the former rector of the Episcopal church at Cortland and his supporters from discharging any of the duties of the parish or the treasurer from receiving the funds of the parish. The case was originally heard at chambers here and Star readers will recall that a vestry favorable to the former rector attempted to elect him acting rector contrary to the orders of the bishop.

During intervals in the case the judge imposed sentence upon Miles Hall, found guilty yesterday of third degree assault. Hall was committed to the county jail for a term of six months. Adelbert Spangler, pleaded guilty on Monday to two indictments for violation of the penal laws, was fined $250 and sentenced to thirty days in the county jail. Frank Kollar, pleaded guilty on Monday to the same offense, was fined $250.

MERCHANTS' CONFERENCE

CLOSES WITH NOTABLE AFTER-DINNER ADDRESSES BY VISITING EDITORS.

Frank Farrington of Delhi Tells Merchants They Should Advertise—W. W. Orr Able Discusses Credit and Sound Business Methods and W. H. Farley Gives Motion Picture Lecture on Getting the Most Out of Retailing.

Every merchant ought to expend each year at least two per cent of his gross sales of the previous year in advertising and if a large business three and even four per cent. Frank Farrington of Delhi, one of the nationally recognized authorities on good business methods, told those in attendance at the closing banquet of the Merchants' conference at The Oneonta last night, during his excellent and illuminating address upon "Advertising and Selling," in the discussion of which he crowded about as much good solid advice to merchants as the English language permits being compressed into a half hour's talk.

Mr. Farrington is well-known in this city and both his books and his articles in trade journals are widely read. After a pleasing introduction by C. C. Lauren, who presided in the absence of Mayor-Elect C. C. Miller, prevented from attending at the last minute, Mr. Lauren referring to Mr. Farrington's ability and popularity where business men gather, the speaker indulged in some pleasanties which created no little merriment and put all in excellent humor. He then plunged into the discussion of the subject, which he declared permitted his rambling over practically the entire range of mercantile business.

He divided advertising into four classes—newspaper, direct mail, inside store and outside store and in discussing who should use newspaper advertising he said that practically all merchants should use a paper like The Star, with the possible exception of the small grocer in the suburbs of the city who caters perhaps to but a small percentage of the subscription list of the paper. The merchant should use such space as will indicate the size and character of his business. It would be absurd, said he, for a large store to use a three-inch single column space. It would convey the wrong impression of the business. A good newspaper Mr. Farrington declared to be the best possible advertising medium. While it should be patronized for the good of the community and as a community enterprise it should above all things be patronized for the good of your own business.

Continuing the speaker declared his belief that the owner of the store should write his own advertisements and give them an individuality. They should be made interesting and contain some striking headline that will tie up the balance of the advertisement with it.

Mr. Farrington also discussed the value of the form letter as an aid to newspaper advertising or to the merchant in the community without a newspaper and made many timely and helpful suggestions relative to store signs and advertisements both within and without the store. One of his most effective and truthful remarks in discussing loyalty and devotion to the business with which one is associated was the declaration that clerks talk about "the boss raising wages" while the fact is that clerks raise their own wages or keep them stationary, dependent upon the degree to which they put their own best efforts into the business. Mr. Farrington was heartily cheered when he finished.

Attention Is Power.

Systematically plan each day's work before the office or store is reached, and do not permit routine work to crowd you away from the important things scheduled. William W. Orr, editor of The Credit Monthly, told the banqueters during his thoughtful and inspiring address upon "Credit and Sound Business Methods." He said he was inclined to believe that we are entering upon a new business era, and that while more strict rules will prevail, we will find that credit is not a thing that we can look upon, though it is simple and founded upon some fundamental laws. Quite possibly the best definition is that it is that power which can be used to obtain goods upon the promise to pay for them. What gives this power?

Probably no single quality gains this power so much as attention. The blithest admittance to be diligent in business still prevails and contributes to the acquisition of this power. It is not secured unless one cultivates well the plot God gives us. It is not success and certainly not mere shrewdness, but the rather that personal quality of attention and interest which creates confidence or that mark of individuality that bespeaks accomplishment.

Among the different things that demand the constant attention enumerated were quick and prompt turnover of stock, the development of loyalty and constructive ability among employees, fostering a successful atmosphere, satisfying customers, giving full confidence to your bank, cultivating friendly interest in one's self or the part of the credit man with whom one deals, co-operation fully with the commercial agencies and others of like nature.

In closing, the speaker declared that we are entering upon an era of lower prices when the importance of sound business methods cannot be too greatly appreciated if one is to succeed, for, said Mr. Orr, the day of the blunter and the promoter is passed and we are entering upon a highly competitive period when the one who systematically and scientifically faces the problems of his business and by attention and inherent power may reasonably expect to reap a reasonable measure of success.

"Getting the Most Out of Retailing" was the subject of the last response of the evening, given by W. H. Farley of the National Cash Register company, whose address was illustrated with motion pictures, in which the value and utility of a cash register were emphasized, though much of value in the way of up-to-date business methods not included in the use of the register, was given. It was helpful and was keenly enjoyed by all.

While the morning session was held, owing to the inability of Mr. J. Bigelow, who was announced to give an address on "The Technique of Running a Country Store" at that session, to be in Oneonta at this time, the conference was a notable

REHEARSING PARISH PRIEST.

K. of C. Benefit at Oneonta Theatre Wednesday Evening Next.

The Parish Priest, written by Mayor Hart of Wilkes-Barre and made famous by Daniel Sculley, promises to be one of the best entertainments ever staged by local talent. Rehearsals are well under way and special scenery is being built and painted for the production.

The Parish Priest can be termed as a play just a little out of the ordinary, particularly so for home talent productions. It is not a religious play, as the title might suggest, but a comedy drama with a very appealing story, stirring situations and brimming over with good wholesome comedy. The fact that it was such a big success and has such long runs in the larger cities throughout the country, speaks for itself.

The scenes are laid in an Irish settlement in the coal mining regions of Pennsylvania and the characters are all true to life.

Al MacKey, who was a member of the Manhattan Players when they played here last February, is producing the play and will appear in the title role of the Priest. He is supported by a number of Oneonta's favorites.

The play is to be staged at the Oneonta theatre December the 14th. Ten percent of the net proceeds is to be donated to the home chapter of the Red Cross. Get your tickets at C. L. McCarthy's Clothing store, as they are going fast.

BANQUET AT U. P. CHURCH.

Men of Congregation Meet to Discuss Plans for Men's Club—Prominent Citizens Address Diners.

Following a very enjoyable banquet held at the United Presbyterian church last evening by the three men's Sunday school classes, plans were discussed for the formation of a Men's club. A committee was appointed to perfect a plan for such an organization. The committee will make its report and officers will be elected at a later meeting.

After all had partaken heartily of the excellent meal prepared by the Ladies Aid society of the church, talks were given by Judge W. L. Bolton on "Christianity in Business," by City Judge Frank Huntington on "The Christian's Duty in Civic Affairs," and by Prof. Wilbur H. Lynch on "The Christian's Duty to Himself." The points brought out by the speakers were clear and convincing and the talks were greatly enjoyed by the 60 or more present. Rev. Frank M. Caughey acted as toastmaster. Following the speeches the matter of the formation of a Men's club was brought up and discussed at length.

MRS. BIRDSALL AT REST.

Rev. J. C. Johnson Pays Warm Tribute at Funeral Yesterday.

A final tribute of loving esteem was paid Mrs. Hewitt Birdsall yesterday afternoon, when a large company of relatives and friend gathered at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. L. Pope, 62 Chestnut street, for the funeral. Rev. J. C. Johnson, pastor of the Elm Park Methodist church and long-time friend of the deceased, had charge of the services and was assisted by Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist church. Johnson delivered a fitting eulogy of Mrs. Birdsall's Christian life character, and Dr. John offered a fervent prayer.

After the services at the house, the body was taken to the Plains cemetery for burial in the family plot. The bearers were Joseph Birdsall, Myron Birdsall, Thomas Miller, A. E. Aye, George Hetherington and Carl Hetherington. The casket was covered with a blanket of beautiful flowers, which, in addition to those from relatives and friends, included tributes from the Ladies Aid society of the First Methodist church and the Progressive Home circle, of which Mrs. Birdsall was a member.

Among those present at the funeral were Mrs. Charles Wheat, Mrs. William Hall, Mrs. Frank Mumford and Miss Hazel Pomeroy, all of Walton; Miss Olive Sanford of Otego; Mr. and Mrs. John Birdsall and H. Birdsall of Margaretville; Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Lester of Hunderon, Md.; and Mrs. James Reed of Franklin.

Death of Hermann Schiller.

Mr. Alfred Smith of 18 Cherry street received word last evening of the death from appendicitis of her mother, Miss Hermann Schiller, at the home of Mrs. Oswald Bassett of Windsor, Ont., who was also an aunt of the deceased. Miss Schiller is survived by a brother, Lawrence Smith, who resides with Mrs. Alfred Smith in Oneonta, and two sisters, Alice Seitter of Northampton, Mass., and Mildred Schiller of Detroit, Mich. Miss Schiller was 15 years of age and had many friends in Oneonta, where she had often visited.

Mrs. Hufford a guest.

Mrs. Edward G. Hornshu was hostess for a meeting of a recently organized bridge club yesterday when she entertained the members at her home, 158 Hawley street. At the conclusion of the games refreshments were served in the dining room where the table was centered with a silver candleabra holding red candles. Mrs. Harry Hufford of Oneonta was a guest of the club.—[Binghamton Press.

Dr. John's Class Holds Social.

About 60 members and their husbands of Rev. Dr. B. M. Johns' Sunday school class were present at a very enjoyable social held in the First Methodist church parlors last evening. Edgar Allen Poe's "The Raven" was shown in motion pictures and proved of interest to all. Dainty refreshments were served.

Something New in an Automobile Proposition

Used Car Market Affected by Excellent Quality of Studebaker Cars

Since early in March the demand for Studebaker cars has exceeded the supply and the great plants in Detroit and South Bend have been kept going at capacity in an endeavor to supply the demand.

Due to this tremendous call for Studebaker cars, Studebaker dealers have been able to choose their customers and to take in trade only those automobiles which were in the best condition and at a fair price. The public has been willing to "trade in" its used cars at the lowest prices because of the desire to own a new car which is recognized as the greatest automobile value on the market.

VAN BUREN IN TROUBLE

Well Known Young Man Faces Charges of Petit Larceny and Fraud — Will Be Arraigned on First Charge This Morning.

Milo VanBuren, a young man known to many in the city, is in the city jail awaiting arraignment this morning on a charge of petit larceny preferred by the Bell Clothing company. About a month ago VanBuren gave a check at the Bell store in payment for merchandise purchased and when it was returned from the Albany Trust company, on which institution it was drawn, with the statement that VanBuren had no account there, a warrant was issued for his arrest. He was taken in custody by Chief Horton and Officer Howard in Carbondale yesterday and brought to Oneonta.

A warrant has been issued in Albany for VanBuren's arrest on a charge of fraud, and it is also understood that several other indictments are outstanding against him in this city. The Albany charge involved an automobile transaction which started here some weeks ago. VanBuren obtained a second-hand Ford touring car from the Onondaga Auto Exchange company, promising to pay for it within a short time. After changing the car to a coupe by the substitution of another body, he took it to Albany and traded it with the Trice Motor Car company for an almost new Ford coupe, promising to pay $500 to boot. This car he brought to Oneonta and traded with a local man for a Dodge touring car and a monetary consideration. It is alleged that the money involved in the deal has not been paid and the Trice company has had a warrant issued charging him with fraud. The original Ford was found in Schenectady after a difficult search, because of the fact that it had been sold three times.

The disposition made of the petit larceny charge when he is arraigned in city court this morning will doubtless determine the action that will be taken on the Albany charge. The young man comes of an excellent family in this city and his home, training and previous habits are so at variance with his recent conduct as to make the latter unexplainable to his family and friends.

State Jersey Club Next Week.

The annual meeting of the New York State Jersey Cattle club will be held Wednesday, December 14, at the Onondaga hotel in Syracuse. While no delegates were appointed from the Otsego club, it is not improbable that some of the prominent Jersey breeders from the country will attend.

And Resisted Not.

Addison Barlow of Windham arrested Tuesday, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy when arraigned in court yesterday morning and was given 15 minutes by Acting City Court Judge Mathaway to get out of the city. He went.

Big DeMille Picture Today.

Cecil B. DeMille's big Paramount picture, "The Affairs of Anatol," in which an all star cast comprising Wallace Reid, Gloria Swanson, Elliott Dexter, Leatrice Joy, Monte Blue, Wanda Hawley and others of equal note, are seen, come to the Oneonta theatre for a 3 days engagement. This is said to be the greatest DeMille production to date and well worth seeing.

NOTABLE MUSICAL ATTRACTION.

Boston Symphony Orchestra at Kulturah Temple, Binghamton, Dec. 15.

The greatest musical attraction to visit Binghamton in years will be the Boston Symphony orchestra, which appears at Kulturah temple, Binghamton, Thursday, December 15.

The orchestra is world famous, consists of 103 musicians, and seldom such cities this size have the opportunity of hearing them.

The program has been specially prepared for Binghamton. Pierre Monteux, the celebrated conductor of the Boston Symphony orchestra, has made a program for this occasion which will be memorable by its beauty and engrossing by its variety.

The opening number will be Beethoven's "Eroica" Symphony No. 3, considered one of the supreme achievements in all music, which, as eloquently performed at the beginning of the present season of New England's great orchestras in Boston, and at the opening of the New York season in Carnegie Hall recently, met with a response of the highest enthusiasm.

This music, inspired by the liberating ideals of the French Revolution, abounds in martial energy and rhythmic outbursts which break all the rules of composition of its time, and even in our day of intricate scoring, is impressive by its radical boldness.

One of the most magnificent examples of the modern Russian school of music is Rimsky-Korsakoff's Capricorn Spanish Themes, which will be played at this concert, consisting of two Alboradas, variations, game and Gypsy songs, and Fandango of the Asturias. This music is scarcely rivaled in pictorial skill and gorgeous colorings, which are partly created by important solos from virtuosos of the orchestra.

The remaining numbers will be

The Methodist Episcopal church at Richmondville, believing that advertising pays, is regularly running a five-inch double column space in the Phoenix. A result has been a much larger attendance at church and Sunday school, with the Sunday collections doubled. Wherefrom it appears that in a material and spiritual sense little advertising pays.

Home-made Remedy
Stops Coughs Quickly

The best cough medicine you ever used. A family supply easily and quickly made. Saves about $2.

You might be surprised to know that the best thing you can use is a remedy which is a remedy which is easily prepared at home in just a few moments. It's cheap, but for prompt results it beats anything else you ever tried. Usually stops the ordinary cough or chest cold in 24 hours. Tastes pleasant, too—children like it—and it is pure and good.

Take a small amount in a pint bottle; then fill it up with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired.

Thus you make a full pint—a family supply—but costing no more than a small bottle of ready-made cough syrup.

And as a cough medicine, there is really nothing better to be had at any price. It goes right to the spot and gives quick, lasting relief. It promptly heals the inflamed membranes that line the throat and air passages, stops the aching, violent tickle, loosens the phlegm, and soon your cough stops entirely. Splendid for bronchitis, cough, hoarseness and bronchial asthma.

Will Answer Forgery Charge.

Lee Stalker, 26 years of age, arid arrested Tuesday morning on a charge of forgery in the second degree, waived examination when arraigned in city court yesterday morning and was released in $1,000 bond by acting City

Judge Hathaway to await the action of the grand jury.

Stalker, who was, until recently employed by H. M. Cowan Jr., forged

Mr. Cowan's name to a few small checks, aggregating about $15, which he gave to local merchants for merchandise and services. The warrant for his arrest was issued on the complaint of the Citizens' National bank upon which the checks were drawn.

It is also understood that Stalket signed his own name to at least one check to cover which he did not have sufficient funds in the bank. It has not been decided whether he will be prosecuted on this charge.
